IT'S YOUR CHOICE

College is a series of choices. The student must choose what he wishes to make his career. Will he study or "party?" Who his friends will be. What activities, clubs, campus events he wants to be a part of.

College is also an experience in which you learn many things. You learn how to express yourself; you gain the ability to concentrate, the knowledge gained from the past and to give serious thought before you form an opinion. You learn about living in the real world — working odd-hour jobs, making your finances stretch to meet all your expenses. You mature in your ability to criticize, to respond to the beauty of nature, of personalities, of friendship, and to appreciate more fully the blessings of good food and caring instructors. This is the atmosphere of a college campus, not any campus but that of Southwest Mississippi Community College.

Besides the educational advantages, college has all the trimmings:

The comraderie of dormitory life,
The satisfying steam jets of midnight bull sessions,
The thrill of dashing about campus,
The glamour of prom trotting,
Those Wednesday nights out on the town,
The excitement of special events.

All this and an education too!

Paraphrase of "What Are You Here For?"

SMCC HITS RECORD ENROLLMENT

This year has started off excitingly not only for the freshmen but for SMCC also. If you have not heard "the news" yet, you're about to hear it. This is a record-breaking year for SMCC! Not only have the names, faces, and people changed, but the school is undergoing change too. This year's enrollment is up by a seven percent increase over last year. There are approximately 1200 day students and 200 night students. Not only has the enrollment record been broken, but so has the number of people enrolled in the registered nurse program which has 144 students.

Many questions begin to arise as the enrollment climbs. Are there more problems since there are more students? When President Holmes was asked this question, he replied, "Good problems. We have larger classes in which we are serving more students with limited class room space. We have a number of class rooms, but they are not large enough."

Other questions that arose about the increase were "Do you think enrollment will increase that much next year?" "Did changing from SMJC to SMCC have an effect on the increase?" and "Where are the people coming from?"

President Holmes responded to all the questions optimistically. Does he think enrollment will increase that much next year? "The increase in students has come even though the number of high school graduates has declined in recent years. With the decline of high school graduates, I think we are at a leveling off in enrollment. Unless there is much industrial expansion to attract young working couples with children into the area, I believe that our enrollment is at its peak."

Did changing the name of the school from a junior college to a community college have an effect on the enrollment. "The change would reflect a national trend that will involve more short-term programs. I do not feel it will affect the college transfer enrollment; it may be that the number of full-time vocational students will increase."

Where are the people coming from? "There is an increase from our community college district as well as surrounding areas." The community college district consists of Pike, Amite, and Walthall counties.

The recent record enrollment was approximately 1325. When Southwest began, it was an addition to the agricultural high school and the first freshman class had 56 students.

Plans are being drawn now to move all recreational activities from the student union into a new building. Another building is planned for class room space. This building will house the humanities and social sciences divisions. These new buildings will help ease the overcrowding in class room space. There is a waiting list to get into the RN program, as well as a waiting list for the men's and women's dormitories.

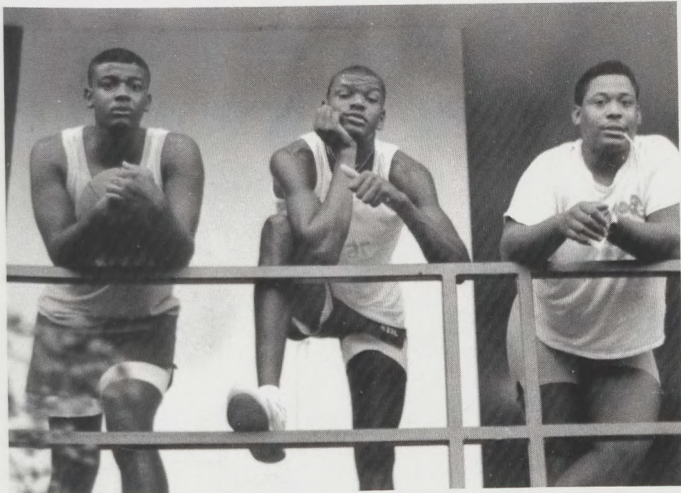

President Holmes believes that this will be a great new beginning for Southwest Mississippi Community College. "I believe this is one of the best beginnings that we have had in the 36 years that I have been at Southwest. I think we're going to have an outstanding year. We have a fine group of students."

Choices

The Road Not Taken

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that, the passing there
Has worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

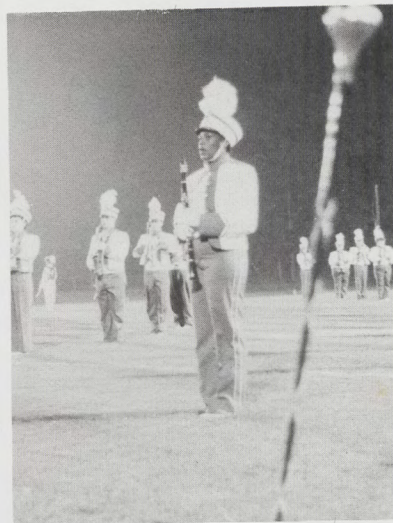

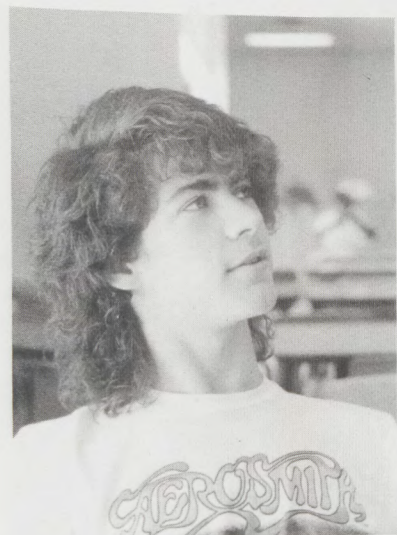

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

Bear Necessities Day

Bear Necessities Day was a fun-filled day of team competition and individual competition. There were events such as tug of war, a three-legged race, Volkswagen pushing, egg toss, Dizzy Izzy, a softball throw, a softball faculty/student game, and the mile run. The winner of the mile run was Reggie Carter in the men's division. For the female division of the mile run, Rachel Bergin had the best time. The softball throw winners, in the men's and women's areas, were Jo Jo Davis and Carla Harvey. The overall winners in the team events for men, were Joe Coleman, Jerell Green, Carnell Carter, Cedric Scott, Andre Tucker, Gerard Sanders, and Ronald Robinson. The team winners in the women's division were Kovi Dillon, Sonya Rose, Corrine Knox, Terri Smith, Pam Truitt, and Angela Scott.

AZALEA COURT 1988

The 1988 Azalea Court is only one fine example of SMCC's memorable events. The azalea trail was first sponsored by the Summit Garden Club in 1966. At that time the college became the sponsor of the event. It has brought much publicity to the college through its natural scenery, and as well to our students. The court helps to make Southwest incredibly unique. The Queen, who reigns over the court, is chosen by the student body. Serving in the court and as maids, the other girls are chosen in a student body election.

PERFORMANCES

Artists of the religious rock group appeared at SMCC in "David and the Giants", sponsored by the Baptist Student Union.

DAVID AND THE GIANTS, a religious rock group, performed a "soul-shaking" concert for an audience of enthusiasts on Wednesday night, August 24, at 8:00 in the Fine Arts Building Auditorium.

The concert was sponsored by B.R.I.C. (Brothers in Christ), in cooperation with the Southwest division of the B.S.U. (Baptist Student Union).

When asked his impression of Southwest's students and faculty, David Huff replied "They are a beautiful group of people that love and serve the Lord."

Several people in the audience said that the music was very moving and that it was wonderful that there was a Christian rock group for the younger generation to listen to. The music brought the crowd, young and old, to their feet, literally "rocking their souls."

The plans for the group, consisting of David Huff, lead vocalist; Rayborn Huff, keyboards; Clayborn Huff, bass guitar; and Keith Thibideaux, drums; are to "keep singing for the Lord." The group also plans to make an album featuring David's daughter, Kelly Williams. The group's recording studio, Huff Recording, located near Forest will record the album.

The band started in 1966-67 as a rock group and changed to religious rock in 1977. As to why they changed, a friend of the group said, "All things change under the Lord's hands."

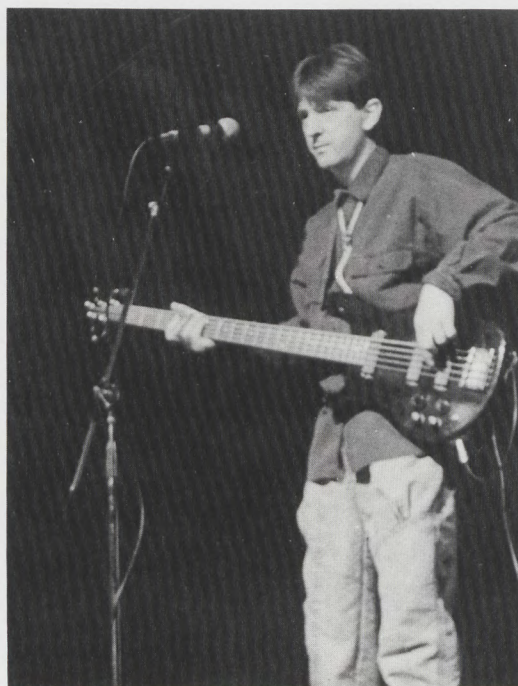

David Huff said, "Before I knew the Lord, I thought I was living; but I was really dead. When I met Jesus, then I started living."

The reporter, like everyone else, stood, applauded and waited — foolishly, apparently — for an encore from singer Lee Greenwood at Thursday night, September 29, "Gala '88". It never came.

But while leaving the Fine Arts Auditorium at Southwest Mississippi Community College, where the Southwest Regional Medical Foundation staged its annual benefit for the Emma B. Holmes Women's Center at Southwest Mississippi Regional Center, longtime arts supporters Mr. and Mrs. Aston Covington came within earshot.

One remarked, "Well, how could you, realistically, expect an encore after a number like that?"

Exactly.

Their "ain't no way", that Greenwood could have garnered the same reception after his last number, "God Bless the U.S.A."

The place was rocking, stomping, and clapping with tuxedoed gentlemen and freshly coiffed ladies who seemed to forget, maybe, that this has become one of the social events of the year and would perhaps require dignified behavior.

Dignified? Everybody seemed to be having a good old, downhome time. Greenwood brings that out in you.

It didn't take him long to cast off his black, silver sequined jacket to let you watch him sweat.

OK, there were the black pleated silk trousers, the gold watch on the left hand, the gold "LG" necklace dangling. But there was that white shirt getting wetter all the time as Greenwood pranced and danced about the stage, giving his all for what he called "a great cause."

STAGEBAND

Stageband is a very important part of the band program at SMCC. It is a combination of students with talents in playing musical instruments, singing, and dancing. Under the direction of Shelton Whittington, the stageband plays a variety of music. Country, jazz, pop, and rock are combined to create a show that appeals to every musical taste.

Assistants Tim Avant and Belinda Dyar play a major role in the choreography and costuming of the dancers and vocals. The dancers learn modern dance steps to perform with selected songs. Eugene Price, choral director assists in helping the vocals perfect each song.

Many hours of practice and preparation go into every show. Students spend numerous hours putting together scenes, working on the sound system, operating the lights, setting up equipment, and practicing each song and dance step. Much hard work goes into every stageband performance, but the hard work is worth it because the stageband is widely acclaimed throughout Mississippi and has provided many opportunities for SMCC students to showcase their talents.

Edgewood Mall Sponsors "Meet the Bears"

Edgewood Mall held its first "Meet the Bears" nights on August 30, 1988. The entire SMCC football team and coaching staff were introduced individually for the first time this year. Also on hand were the SMCC football cheerleaders who "fired up" everyone for this football season.

The evening started out with a gathering in Center Court meeting the football team and coaches. A pep rally was held by the cheerleaders who afterwards gave out SMCC "spirit rags". Then head coach, Larry Kinslow, introduced the entire football team and managers as they walked the "aisle of victory."

The "Meet the Bears" event will be an annual event at Edgewood Mall. It will be held the week before the Bears' first game.

Summit Merchants Honor SMCC Students

To start this year's football season off right, the town of Summit honored SMCC with a street dance in downtown Summit. The cheerleaders held a pep rally, and the crowd joined in to get the Bears fired up. The band, dance line, and flag corps were also featured. The band played "Georgia" and "Up a Lazy River" with the dance line and flags performing. The dancers were also featured dancing to "Run Around Sue." Summit's mayor, Mayor Windsor Gay, recognized the football team and the cheerleaders. The cheerleaders presented gifts to the football team.

Pepsi-Cola furnished the spectators with free Pepsi and a big screen television, complete with music videos. K-106 radio station broadcast live from the dance and interviewed students, coaches, and various other people to get some viewpoints on this year's football season and school year.

The raffle was then began with everyone anxiously waiting to win, win, win!

The raffle consisted of gift certificates and gifts donated by the town merchants. First Bank donated everyone's favorite gift, money. The raffle was delayed due to rain but was finished after a brief wait. Many of SMCC's own were lucky enough to win prizes.

The dance was cancelled because of rain. Even though the streets of Summit were dampened, the festivities and Bear spirit were not. That spirit, with a little determination and pride, will lead SMCC to a victorious season. GOOD LUCK BEARS!!!

OF FAME

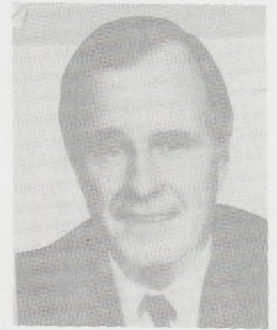

Teri Lea Dunaway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Dunaway of Liberty, is a member of the SMCC Hall of Fame. Teri is a sophomore with a major in Medical Records Administration and is an active student at Southwest. Miss Dunaway, a two-year member of the football cheerleading squad, serves as Captain. Teri was elected to many positions at SMCC. She was chosen to represent Southwest as 1987 Homecoming Freshman and 1988 Homecoming Sophomore Maid. Teri was also elected also 1987 Campus Beauty, 1988 Azalea Court member and is serving as 1988 Most Beautiful.

The fourth member of the 1988-1989 SMCC Hall of Fame is Michael Joseph Stogner. The son of Senator and Mrs. Joseph Stogner of Dexter, Michael is a sophomore majoring in Chemical Engineering. Michael is a two-year vocalist for the Southwest Stage Band and is a member of the Bear Football team. He was a member of the ALL-STATE Second Team in football. A member of Phi Theta Kappa, Michael serves as President and is the recipient of the Richard D. Campbell-Atlantic Richfield Scholarship for outstanding Engineering or Math students.

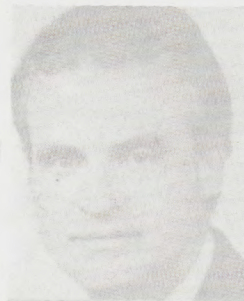

President

George Bush

Trent Lott

Mike Parker

In 1988 America ran rapid campaigns for many political offices. Michael Dukakis was the Democratic Presidential candidate, Vice-President George Bush was the Republican candidate. After choosing the running mates, Republican Dan Quayle, and Democrat Lloyd Bentsen, the race began. In November 1988 the American public cast their votes. George Bush and Dan Quayle were victorious.

Also hanging in the balance were state political offices. When Senator John Stennis announced he would not seek re-election the race began. Wayne Dowdy, the Democratic candidate supported by Senator Stennis, lost to Republican Trent Lott. Democrat Mike Parker defeated Representative Tom Collins in the Congressional race.

Many students at SMCC displayed their support with bumper stickers and flyers. The SGA at SMCC also held a mock election for President, Senator, and Congressman. The results were the same as in the actual election in November.

NEWSREEL

Instructor McKinney receives award.

Samuel M. McKinney recently received the Mississippi Legislature's Outstanding Faculty Member Award from Representative Clem Nettles.

At Southwest, McKinney teaches courses in Political Science and Sociology and serves as Chairman of the Social Sciences and Business Division. He has been at Southwest 11 years and received his undergraduate and graduate degrees from Ole Miss.

Students attending SMCC the second semester and next year are going to see some changes in the look of the campus. There are four new additions being added to the school this year.

Work will soon be under way on a new classroom building, a new baseball field, a new softball field, three new tennis courts, and a new band practice field.

Jerry Clower "COMES HOME!!"

A former Southwest student, Jerry Clower, decided after 35 years of living in Yazoo City it was time to head home to Amite County. The Amite county native has achieved much fame as the "Mouth of the South" which, to many, is his nickname. He is well known around the world as a clean-cut, country comedian, author, and inspirational speaker. On Thursday night, November 10, 1988, the crowd was amused by Clower's performance; anyone could tell that by the laughs, applause and general delight.

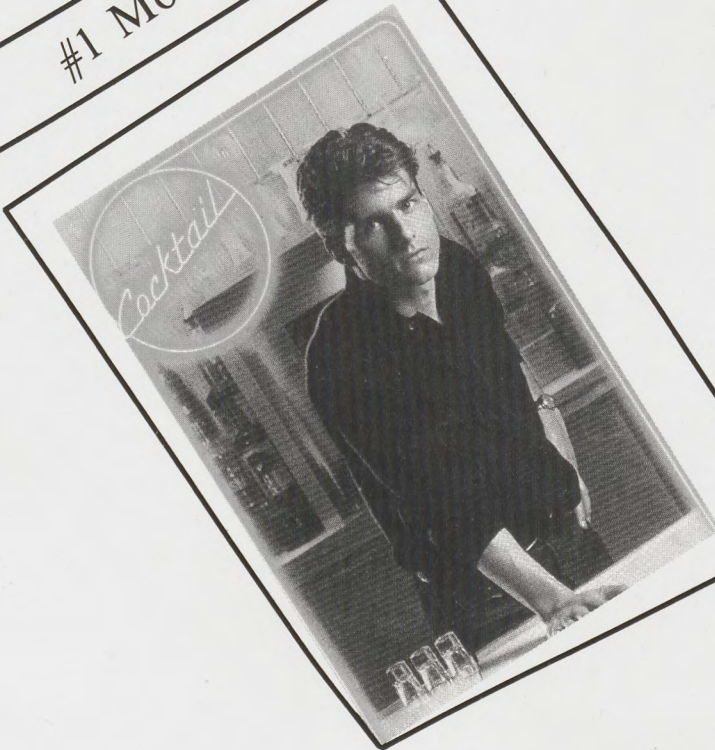

"Yes, Jerry is back," someone said, "as crazy as ever." The former fertilizer salesman and Southwest student gave a great performance and people were glad to see him back.

All proceeds from the show, in excess of $15,000, went to SMCC for scholarships under the name of Homerline Clower Scholarship.

SMCC STYLE

BEARS LOOK TOWARD NEXT SEASON

By Jesse Grice

Hard work and determination . . . these are the factors that will turn the tide for the Bears in '89. What the Bears lost in yardage, they gained in determination. Although the '88 season wasn't a winning one, it was one for learning and experience. Despite their best efforts the team managed only an 0-9-1 record for the season. Although the win-lose record was disheartening there were several outstanding performances by several team members.

In their first game against Northwest, SMCC lost 51 to 24. Southwest fared better in their next game against Gulf Coast. Curt DeLee stunned the Gulf Coast defense by catching 12 passes for 121 yards and a touchdown. This display of ability was not enough as Southwest fell 26 to 23 to Gulf Coast.

On September 17 SMCC fell to East Mississippi 20 to 9. When Hinds came to Southwest it seemed SMCC might win and break a 3-game losing streak when they had a 10-0 lead going into the fourth quarter. That was not to be, as Hinds scored 27 points before the end of the game to win 27 to 10. There was a bright spot as Southwest defensive back Dennis McKnight made his fourth interception of the year to lead the team in pick-offs.

The Southwest Bears traveled to Coahoma on October 1 and after a tough game had to settle for 14-14 tie. When the then second-ranked Co-Lin Wolves came to SMCC they immediately set to work. Co-Lin scored 20 unanswered points in the quarter. The Bears managed only 7 points to finish up to lose 26 to 7.

Jones County made SMCC Homecoming a sad one as they handed Southwest its sixth loss 34 to 12. When Southwest visited Pearl River they dealt a similar loss as in Coach Larry Kinslow's words, "We made too many mistakes." The Bears lost 34 to 14, falling to a 0-7-1 record.

East Central hosted the Southwest Bears on October 29. Andre Tucker, a tailback for Southwest, had the game of his career against East Central. He picked up 150 yards on 27 carries. Tucker's great running was to no avail as SMCC fell 16-13.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

The Student Government Association helps to plan many of the activities that are held on campus — S.G.A. holds elections for cheerleaders, class officers, Who's Who, Homecoming Court, Azalea Court and S.G.A. officers. S.G.A. sponsors dances, intramural basketball and Bear Necessities Day.

Phi Theta Kappa was organized at Stephens College in Columbia, Missouri, in 1918. As the honor fraternity for junior college, PTK exists to recognize and to encourage scholarship among students in American community/junior colleges. The fraternity seeks to provide opportunity for development of leadership and service, an intellectual climate for the exchange of ideas, and stimulation for continuing academic excellence.

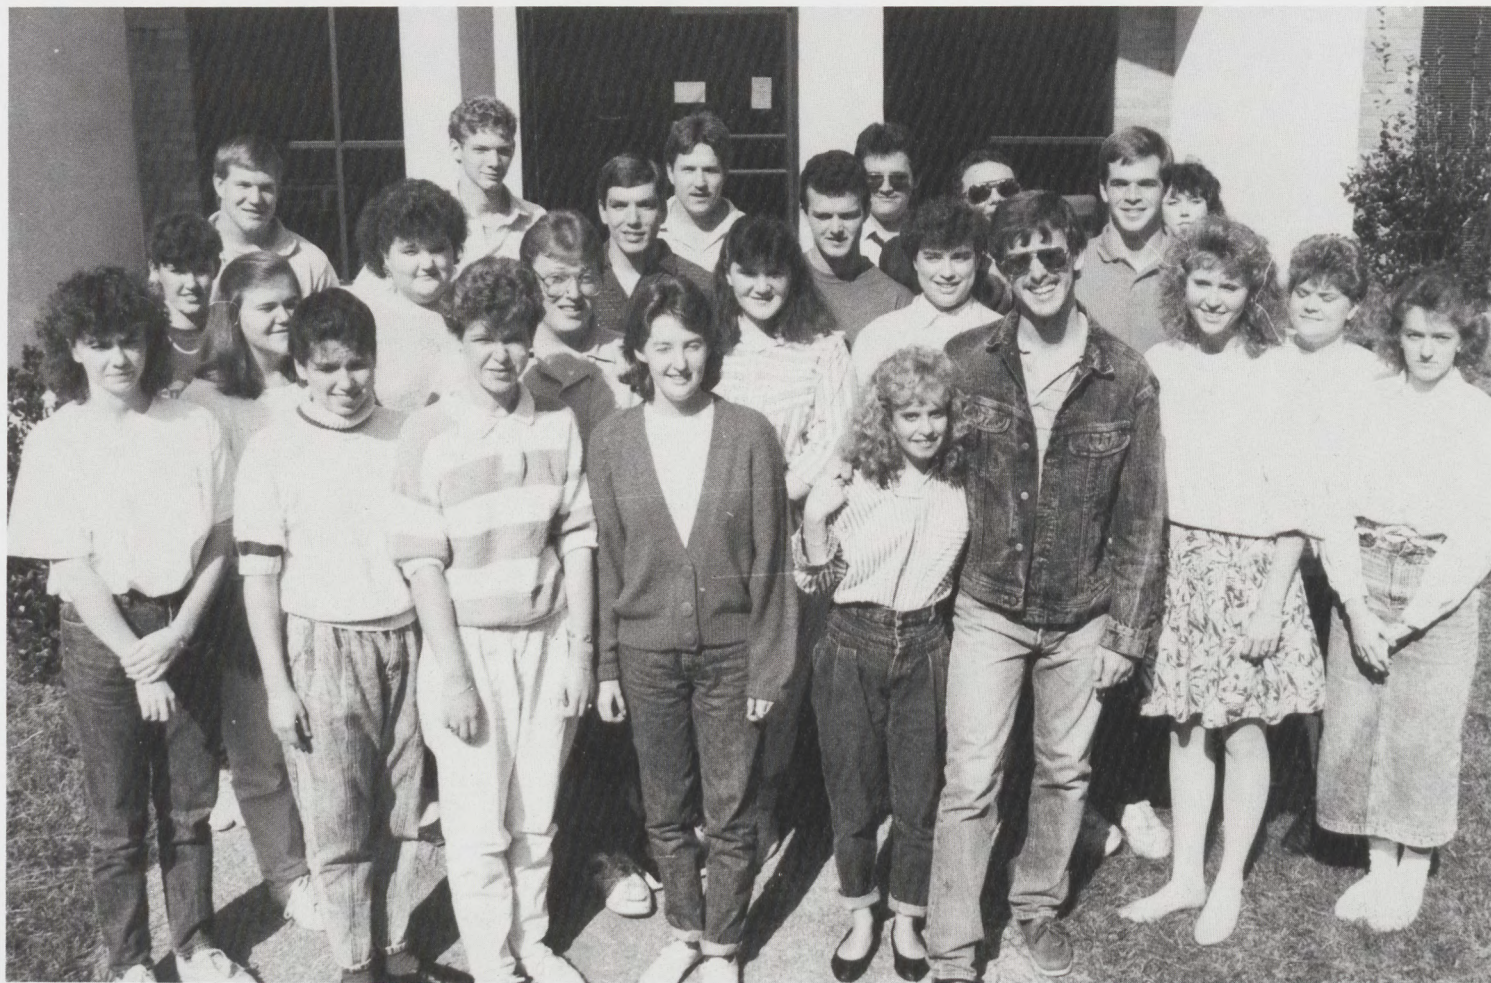

Omicron Delta Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa at Southwest has promoted fund drives for the American Heart Association, assisted with tutoring other students, and encouraged responsible citizenship through its "Don't Drink and Drive" campaign.

In March 1988, PTK made a trip to the National Convention in Washington, D.C. Trisha Brewer campaigned for National President and placed third. The trip was exciting and enjoyable for all PTK members. PTK is sponsored by Dean and Mrs. Johnson.

The Baptist Student Union offers all SMCC students the opportunity for personal growth through worship services, Bible studies, socials, and local, state, and national student retreats and conventions. It is an organization concerned with the Lord's ministry to individuals on campus and in the community. BSU is for everyone, whether he is Methodist, Catholic, Presbyterian or other. It serves as a time and place for students to participate in events that will help them grow and become the leaders of tomorrow.

BSU has weekly meetings and is involved in raising funds to support college student missionaries. They also sponsor Noonday, a prayer luncheon for SMCC students. Ed Abel is the director of the BSU and helps the BSU Council in making decisions on the activities and duties of the BSU.

SMCC's DECA placed in the top three of each area in which they competed at State Competition.

DECA allows students to compete with other colleges in marketing and merchandising contests, somewhat like the athletic competition, except the work is related to sales, fashion, advertising and management.

DECA had the opportunity to attend the fall leadership convention of the club at Hinds Community College which prepared them for the spring competition that will be in Jackson or Biloxi, Mississippi. The National competition will be held in Orlando, Florida.

Last spring, SMCC sent ten DECA students to the National convention in Salt Lake City, Utah. These students won awards as the state competition, qualifying them to go to the National competition.

Carey Lee, instructor, pointed out "SMCC has been quite successful over the years at DECA competition, and my main goal is to be even more aggressive and competent than we were in the past."

PINE BURR

Miss Sheila Marie Heinbach, 19, of McComb, died Nov. 11, 1988 in Independence, La., after an automobile accident.

Born Nov. 27, 1968, in Port Arthur, Texas, Miss Heinbach was the daughter of Martha Hernandez Chancellor of Hamburg, Arkansas, and Jerry Chancellor of McComb. She was a member of St. Alphonsus Catholic Church in McComb.

A student at Southwest Mississippi Community College, Miss Heinbach was editor of the Pine Burr school newspaper and member of the school's yearbook staff. She was employed by The Idea Station in McComb.

Friends Are Special

What would the world be like without friends? More than likely it would be hard and most of all lonely. Friends are so important in one's life. Wouldn't it be tough to tell a secret to your reflection in the mirror?

What is a friend? A friend is someone you can count on through thick and thin, no matter what the circumstances. A friend is someone you can trust to share your own thoughts and feelings without having to worry about those friends "spilling the beans." Most of all, a friend is a person to make you happy when you're sad, or laugh when you're mad. Wouldn't the world be an awful place if we didn't have a friend to share our problems with?

Friends are the people who keep you sane when times seem to have you on edge. Friends are the people with whom you go insane with to make things fun. Friends are the people who understand you and share your tears.

Friends — what would life be without them?

MEMBERS COMPETE IN CONFERENCE

The Pine Burr, the student paper, allows an opportunity for expression of students' opinion and for the development of journalistic skills. Throughout the year, the paper covers the events which shape the school year and clarify what these events mean to each of us.

In April of 1988 seven representatives of the Pine Burr attended the Mississippi Community College Press Association Spring awards conference in Biloxi. The following SMCC students placed in the competition: Melissa LeMaster, David Hughes, Chris Boynick, and Eddie McCalip. Other staff members attending were Sheila Heinbach, Doy Palmer, Myrtle Alexander, Katrina Evans, and Tammy Blalock. Mrs. Mildred Craig sponsors the staff.

The members of the journalism class are the main contributors of material for the paper; however, all students are encouraged to participate and become involved in its production.

Television Interview

Southwest has its own television superstars! Tuesday, November 1, 1988 twelve students were interviewed by Channel 36, the new station established in McComb. The television station ran a promotion for upcoming Veterans' Day.

The students were asked such questions as "What does a Veteran mean to you," or "What is the greatest sacrifice one could make for his or her country?" Students responses varied; however, most students felt that the greatest sacrifice was to give one's own life for others. They also agreed that veterans did not receive enough honor or recognition.

The students interviewed included: Myrtle Alexander, Ann Campbell, Jesse Grice, Gray Harvey, Robbie Hayes, Sheila Heinbach, Mary Adair Kraft, Melissa LeMaster, Shanna Spears, Garland Tullos, Dawn Wells and Paulette Wilson.

As one student awaited her turn to be interviewed, she joked, "I just don't know, I'll either laugh or cry!" It was a time of nervous anticipation for each of the students.

WHISPERING PINES

Sheila Heinbach reviews the Pine Burr!

The 1989 Whispering Pines yearbook serves to record the history of the college and of the people, both students and faculty, who inhabit it during the year. The editorial staff, consisting of Editor Judie Brister and assistants Dustin Thompson, Garland Tullos, and Janene Turnage worked hard to produce a collection of college memories, both good and bad. Others that helped were Debbie Luce, Tammy McIntyre, Laurie Timmons, Tim Pigott, Sheila Heinbach, and Noralyn Blalock and David Massengale. Many thanks also go out to Mr. Neil Craig, Jamie Bates, Brig Milne, and Shannon Smith for the great pictures. This year marks the 57th year of the Whispering Pines' existence at SMCC. We hope we have accurately portrayed life as it is at SMCC. Have a great year, and remember, "It's your choice!"

MARCHING BAND

The SMCC Bear band, under Director Shelton Whittington and Assistant Director Tim Avant, is composed of all qualified students who wish to participate, and is maintained to furnish music for the athletic events, student activities, and various community events.

The band not only provides entertainment for football fans, but also marches in many local parades.

At pep rallies the band provides spirited music for both students and players alike.

This year the band receives its cues from two Drum Majors, Rhonda Bennett and Steven Duncan. The "Touch of Class" danceline is directed by Belinda Dyar.

STAGE BAND

The pride of the music department at SMCC is the Stage Band. The Southwest Stage Band is composed of musicians and vocalists and dancers selected by auditions. The band performs at assembly programs on campus, as well as at various high schools throughout the district. The Stage Band sponsored a Christmas Show in conjunction with the Phi Theta Kappa for the benefit of the American Heart Association. The band also performs a final show in April to capacity crowds for several evenings. This group is an outstanding representative of Southwest Community College.

The Southwest Mississippi Community College Chorus gives students an opportunity to participate in vocal music without requiring auditions; membership is open to all interested students.

DYNAMICS, a select group auditioned from the Chorus, represents the college in programs presented at schools, churches, service clubs, and many other events.

Both groups participate in the Junior College Choral Festival in February.

The Chorus has performed twice for the student body. They performed the Christian cantata, "Count the Cost," and held a Christmas Show in which the DYNAMICS also performed. They also presented the show for the United Methodist Church in Summit.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

OFFERS SPIRITUAL GROWTH

The Wesley Foundation is a group of students, primarily Methodist, who meet to learn, encourage, support and grow with those who are serious about their Christian faith during the college experience.

Under the leadership of the Rev. Phil Gerber, the Wesley Foundation attempts to be the "church" for students away from home and offers the students a wide variety of activities and services designed to aid in their spiritual growth.

BUSINESS

Southwest offers its students the opportunity to take part in a number of courses involving business and business-related activities. These courses instill in students the basic functions of business and show how business relates to life in the real world.

The courses offered include accounting, introduction to Business, Business Mathematics, Business Statistics, Business Law, Principles of Real Estate, Real Estate Law, Real Estate Appraisal, Word Processing, Introduction to Information Processing, Principles of Economics, Retailing, Advertising, Salesmanship, Marketing, Personnel Management, and Business Management.

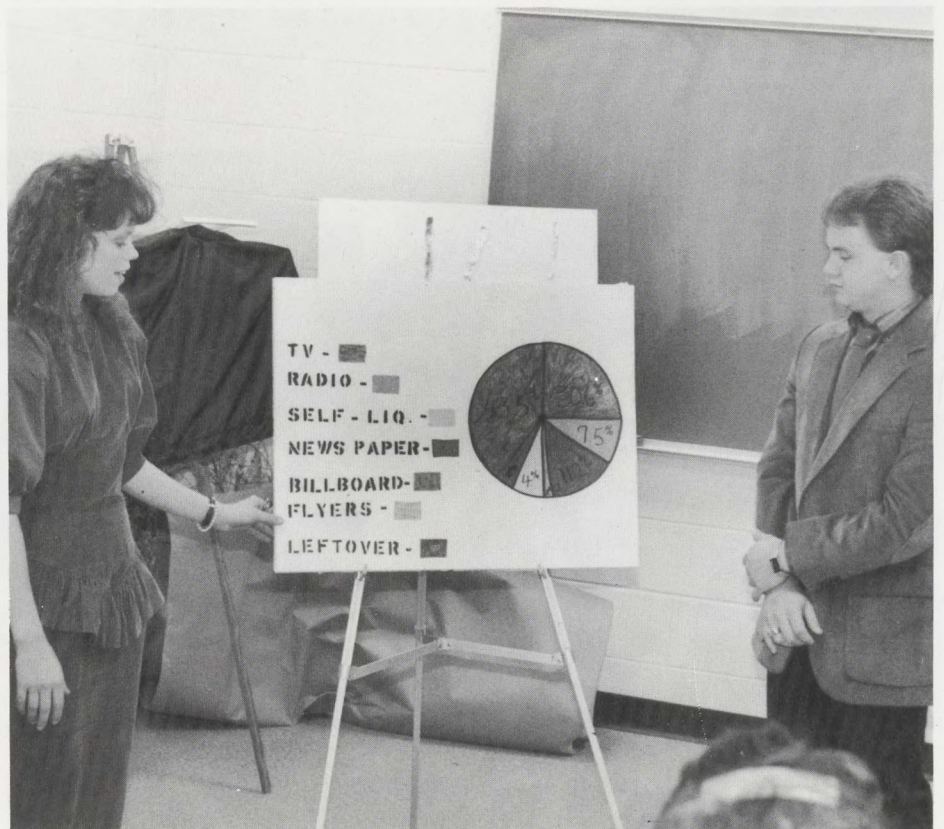

For those students that feel they cannot attend college for four years, there are special study programs in intensified secretarial and clerk-typist training. Among the secretarial courses taught at SMCC are Typing, Shorthand, Filing, Office Practice, and Letter Writing.

Jennifer Lauderdale explains the GRP's of media.

Ms. Brister explains the Business cycle to Brigitte Bryant.

COMPUTER SCIENCE

SMCC's computer science courses provide students with hands on experience on today's most advanced information machines. Programs offered include technical data processing as well as a college transfer computer science program. Many of the academic and vocational departments are training their students in computerized accounting, inventory control, and other information processing seminars.

Among the programs are Computer Business Applications, Basic Programming, Systems Analysis And Design, COBOL Programming, and other Programming Languages including FORTRAN and ASSEMBLER.*

FINE ARTS

Appreciation of form and beauty is instilled in the students from Fine Arts courses taught at SMCC. The courses emphasize the skill and dedication required to create masterpieces, whether they are musical or artistic in form. Fine Art courses taught at SMCC are Music Appreciation, Music for Children, Piano, Music Theory, Voice, Art Appreciation and Drawing. There are many opportunities to get involved in school activities at the Fine Arts Center.

Brass in "All That Jazz."

HEALTH OCCUPATIONS

The Associate Degree Nursing, Practical Nursing, and Medical Records clerk programs are housed in the H.L. Lewis Health Occupations Building. The Associate Degree Nursing Program is designed to provide educational opportunities to qualified students for a career in nursing, thereby helping to meet the expanding health care needs of the community and abroad.

The practical nursing program is designed to teach the understanding of the basic sciences and to develop the basic nursing skills necessary for rendering safe patient care under the supervision of a registered nurse or a physician.

The Medical Records Clerk program trains students for positions in doctors' offices, hospitals, health departments, and other health-related settings.

Graduates of the Associate Degree Nursing Program are eligible to take the state board examination for licensure as a registered nurse. The Associate Degree nursing division is accredited by the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher learning of Mississippi.

Nutrition is obviously a fun class.

Future Florence Nightingales!!!!

LANGUAGE

Several different language courses are taught at SMCC. These courses enable students to become more proficient in their native tongue, learn new languages, and gain confidence in public speaking.

Among the language and language-related courses offered at SMCC are English Composition, British Literature, French, German Reading, and Public Speaking.

MATHEMATICS

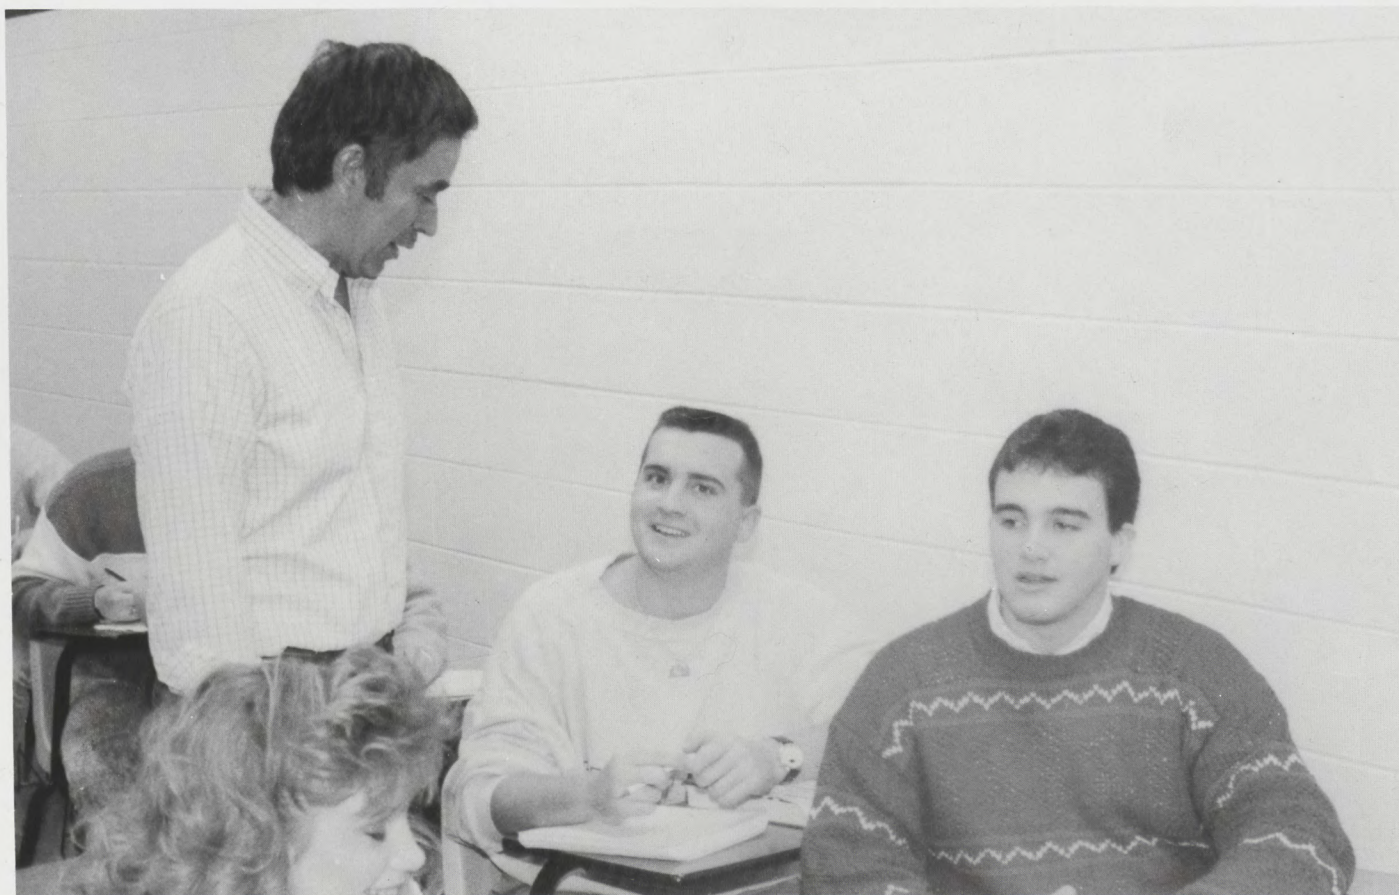

A wide variety of mathematical courses is taught at SMCC. These courses provide opportunities for learning self-discipline, reasoning, drawing conclusions, and making evaluations.

Among the math courses taught at SMCC are Intermediate Algebra, College Algebra, Trigonometry, Calculus, Analytical Geometry, Measurement and Probability, the Real Number System, Geometry, and Differential Equations.

Students are encouraged to pursue areas of special mathematical interest through research projects, art-design work, graphs, and reports.

Mrs. Roffmann explains an algebra problem.

SCIENCE

Mrs. Guy assists lab student, Brad Fitzgerald.

Science is a branch of knowledge concerned with establishing and systematizing facts, principles, and methods. Southwest offers an abundance of science courses.

Among the science courses offered as SMCC are Biology, Chemistry, Organic Chemistry, Physics, Anatomy, Physiology, Microbiology and Zoology.

Tabitha is a Laboratory whiz!

SOCIAL SCIENCES

The social sciences deal with society and the activities of its members. Southwest offers several courses in this discipline.

Western civilization, American history, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology, Journalism, Religion, law enforcement, and Marriage and Family Life all give SMCC students a comprehensive understanding of the order and function of society in the present as well as the past.

Rusty King and Teri Dunaway "Movin' On!"

Coach Dancisin's Western Civ. Class.

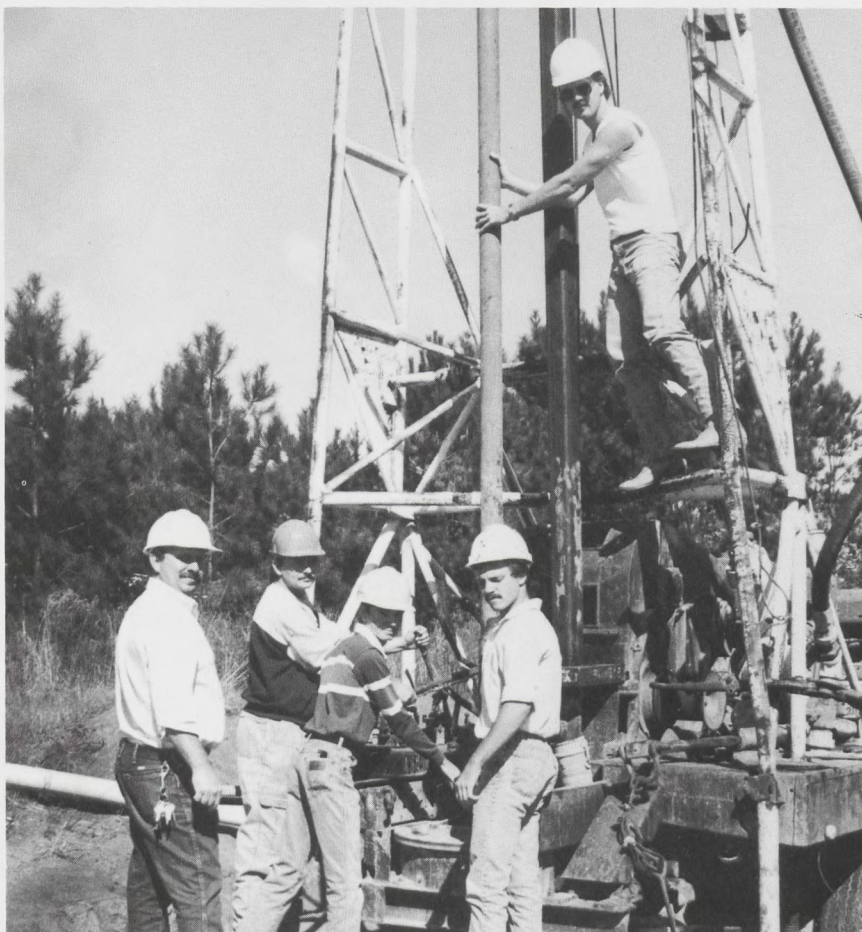

Vo-Tech

The purpose of the vocational education division is to prepare the student for immediate employment. The facilities of this division are among the best equipped in the state and thereby offer the student ample opportunity to enter the work force of his chosen vocation as a skilled craftsman.

These programs provide training and practice for the student who will seek employment upon completion of the program, and a certificate is awarded for successful completion of the vocational program.

DEDICATION

Nancy Holmes

This is Advertising!

A MAN OF DEDICATION

PRESIDENT HORACE C. HOLMES—A man of seemingly inexhaustible qualities—patience, energy, compassion, consideration, enthusiasm, resourcefulness, honor, integrity, dedication, friendliness, respect for his fellowman and for the value of hard work—all to the superlative degree, and all of which make a man—such are the characteristics of the chief administrator of Southwest Mississippi Community College.

Born in Belden, Mississippi, in Lee County, President Holmes graduated from Sherman High School, after which he served some thirty-two months in the U.S. Army with the Combat Engineers during World War II. After the war, he graduated from Jones Junior College, and later received both a B.S. and a M.A. from the University of Southern Mississippi. Additionally, he has done other graduate work at Mississippi State University and at the University of Southern Mississippi.

After teaching and coaching at Johnston Station High School in Pike County, Mississippi, for three years, President Holmes taught and coached at Loyd Star High School, also in Lincoln County for two years. In 1953, he became psychology professor and basketball coach at Southwest Mississippi Community College (then Southwest Mississippi Junior College). During his coaching years, he won three State Championships, one high school and two junior colleges, as well as placing second three times, one high school and two junior colleges.

In 1972 he became President of Southwest.

Since President Holmes' administration began, Southwest has undergone great changes in the physical plant, with the erection of new buildings, the renovation and enlargement of existing structures, the addition of new streets, parking lots, stadium seats, and environmental enhancement of the already-beautifully scenic campus.

The last decade and one-half has brought about also an increased emphasis on academic excellence, an all-time high in enrollment, a greater involvement in community events, and additions to the curricula.

Even with numerous civic, professional, and church responsibilities, President Holmes has remained a model of composure and efficiency. Some of these responsibilities include member of the Mississippi Education Association; member of the Mississippi Association of School Administrators; member of the Mississippi Board of Water Commissioners; director of the Pearl River Basin Development District; deacon of First Baptist Church of Summit; member of the Pike County Selective Service Board; member of the Masonic Lodge; member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools; member of the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges; member and past president of the Mississippi Junior College Association; member of the Advisory Board of Deposit Guaranty National Bank of McComb; and a member of the Pike County Economic Development Foundation.

The President is married to the former Lefay McClelland. He and Mrs. Holmes have two sons: Horace C. Holmes, Jr., Head Baseball Coach at SMCC, and Larry M. Holmes, Girls Basketball Coach at William Carey College. Also, President Holmes has one granddaughter, Kathryn Miley, age 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace C. Holmes, Jr.

President Holmes

ADMINISTRATION

PRESIDENT — HORACE C. HOLMES

President and Head Administrator, Horace C. Holmes, is a dedicated man. He graduated from Jones Junior College, the University of Southern Mississippi and became president of Southwest in July of 1972. He is a part of the school he loves. He admires the faculty for their dedication and the students for their thirst for knowledge.

DEAN OF STUDENTS — JERRY C. REID

Dean Jerry Reid is a long-time employee of SMCC, and has filled many positions at this college.

First, as a student, Reid played football, and after completing his college work and receiving an A.A. at Southwest, he transferred to USM, where he earned a BS and a M Ed degree and additional graduate credit. He has also done graduate work at MSU. Reid returned to Southwest in 1956 as football coach, and later became head football coach. He taught mathematics and continues to do so now. In 1968, he became a staff member as Dean of Students.

As the SMCC administrator, discharging probably the most diverse duties of any staff member, Reid supervises all student activities, student housing, the SGA, student discipline, and serves as head barbecue chef for school functions.

DIRECTOR OF VOCATIONAL — TECHNICAL EDUCATION — KLEMMER L. SIMMONS

K.L. Simmons is a multi-talented individual, good-humored, composed even under adversity, a lover of the out-of-doors, an avid hunter, a master of moters and other machinery, and a friend to everyone.

Holder of a BS degree in Industrial Arts from USM, from which he has graduate credit, Simmons also studied Wheel and Track Repair at Aberdeen Proving Grounds in Maryland. At Southwest, he has taught Auto Mechanics, Welding, Mechanical Drawing, and Engineering Graphics.

SMCC '88-'89

DEAN OF INSTRUCTION — WILLIAM H. JOHNSON

Dean Johnson's wide range of ability attests to his versatility. Joining the Southwest faculty in 1968 as foreign language and mathematics instructor, he has voluntarily assumed various other duties: Phi Theta Kappa faculty advisor, English instructor, student mentor, Humanities Division Chairman, and SMCC's Coach for the University of Mississippi Scholars Bowl.

A graduate of Mississippi College, from which he received a Bachelor's degree, he also holds a Master's degree from MSU, and additional graduate credit toward a Doctorate from the University of Mississippi. Foreign study includes a summer at the Austrian Institute in Salzburg, Austria, where he studied German.

BUSINESS MANAGER — WILLIAM A. QUIN

William Quin, business manager at SMCC, is also director of maintenance personnel, a duty giving him an additional title, Physical Plant Supervisor.

Determined, decisive, direct, dedicated, dependable — what else could one expect of a person who handles a mammoth budget, keeps payrolls on schedule, bank balances in the black, responsibilities that are only a part of the multiple duties of this administrator.

An alumnus of SMCC from which he earned an A.A. degree, and of USM from which he holds a B.S. degree, Mr. Quin has been SMCC's Business Manager since 1968.

With Bill Quin in charge of money matters at SMCC, the college remains financially sound.

R. GLENN SHOEMAKE — DIRECTOR OF ADMISSIONS

What would a college be without a record-keeper? And who can qualify for such a position? Clearly, the job description can qualify for such a position? Clearly, the job description would specify a person intrigued by names, figures, biographical data, school records, and grades. That person at SMCC is Glenn Shoemake.

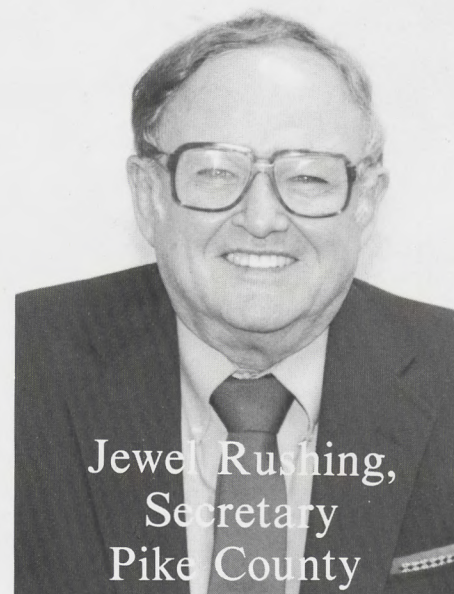

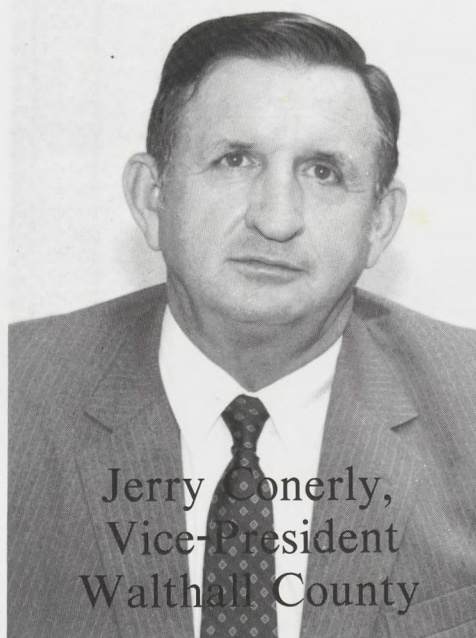

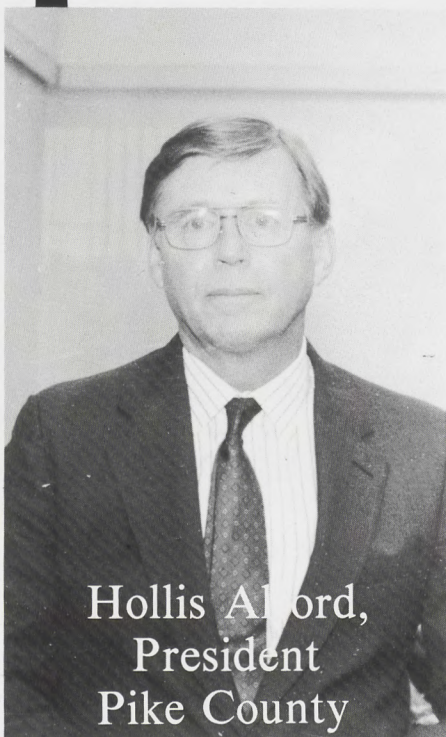

A Jones Junior College graduate, Shoemake received a B.S. and an M.S. from MSU, and has done further graduate work at LSU, MSU, and USM.

Before coming to southwest in 1984, he taught high school at Weir High School in Choctaw County, worked as Research Associate, Research Specialist, and Research/Curriculum Specialist with the Department of Education at MSU and Director of Vocational-Technical Education for McComb Public Schools.

Mary Brewer, "I just want to live so my students can see Jesus through me."

Mary Katherine Brewer, speech instructor at SMCC, was born at McCall Creek (Franklin County). She attended Jones High School and SMCC, where she earned an Associate in Arts degree. She then transferred to USM where she earned a Bachelor of Science degree and a Master's degree in speech.

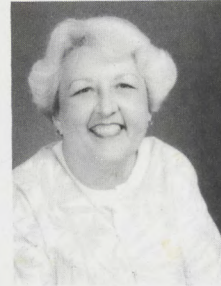

Her love for young people is evident in her choice of a career. She likes to be close to her students and she believes in the abilities of the students at Southwest. She cited many as "disciplining themselves as they strive toward success."

When asked what she would change about our world, she replied, "If our world could learn to love the beautiful things and the trip from birth to death, they would have one unique experience after another. May God bless us all!"

A seventeen-year teaching veteran born in Brooklyn, New York, Patsy E. King is a biology professor at Southwest. After attending St. Mary of the Pines and McComb High School, she joined the students of SMCC and earned an Associate of Arts degree. She then transferred to USM where she received a B.S. and M.S. in biology and math. She completed advanced degree work at the University of Mississippi and Southeastern.

Her choice for a career stems from a general admiration for the study of life. She admires the dedication of her A&P students and would like the world to learn to adapt and possibly erase global hatred and poverty.

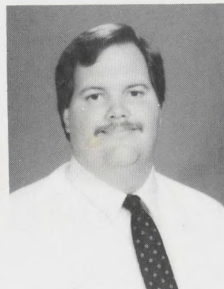

When asked what period of time she would like to live in she replied "There is no pioneer in me; electricity and automobiles are the things I enjoy. I truly believe the decade of the 1950's was a time of family closeness and simple things, and it might be nice to re-do that period."

Pat Price, Professor of Psychology at SMCC, was born in McComb, where she still resides. She attended Bogue Chitto High School, Co-Lin, and Southwest, earning an Associate of Arts degree. she then attended the University of London and USM where she received a BS and MS in psychology.

When asked to choose a period of time in which she would like to live she replied, "... the past, during creation, or, say, 1,000 years into the future. I guess these periods signify the "unknown".

STAFF

John C. Thomas — "I like working with people."

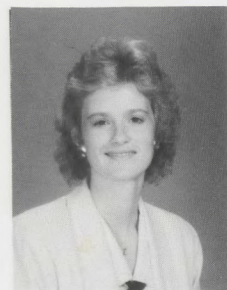

John Thomas, JTPA Counselor at SMCC, was born in Jackson, MS. He attended Lanier and Brinkley High School and after graduation, attended Tougaloo College and earned a BS. He did graduate study in chemistry and physics at LSU and received an ME from USM.

He thinks SMCC provides a great educational opportunity and believes SMCC attracts top quality students from surrounding areas."

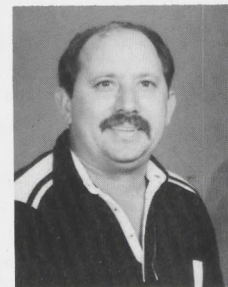

When asked when he would like to live he replied, "I can't think of any better time than the present."

AND

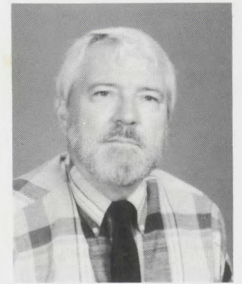

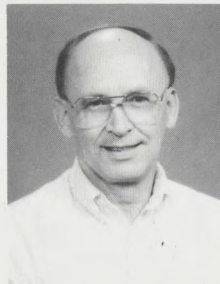

Paul Dancsisin — "... I love kids ... teaching comes naturally."

Paul Dancsisin, Assistant Football Coach and History professor, was born in Passaic, N.J. After graduating from East Patterson Memorial High School he attended Millsaps and received a BS in History. He then transferred to Mississippi College and received a MS in American History.

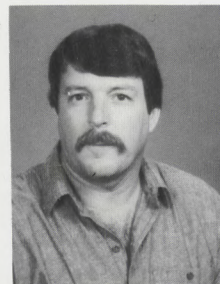

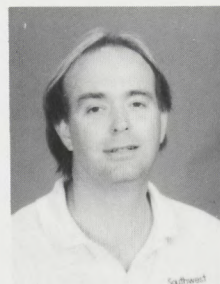

A six-year teaching veteran at SMCC, he feels the students are top-notch.

When asked what he would change in the world, he replied, "I would remove all Lee Iacocca posters and rid the world of alcohol, drugs, and war."

EDITORIAL

Where time goes, I often wonder. For we stay too busy to notice it pass and before too long, the sands of the hourglass slip through our hands. It seems my time at Southwest is ending, oh, so fast, but the memories and good times each of you has given will make it last.

In this publication, the staff has tried to capture the real meaning of college. IT'S YOUR CHOICE has been designed to show some of the many opportunities, which lead to decisions, that Southwest has to offer.

My admiration goes to Mrs. Mildred Craig and Mrs. Betty Johnson for all of their cooperation and perseverance while working with the staff. They kept us constantly on our toes with the deadline that HAD to be mailed "THE NEXT DAY!!"

Mr. Neil Craig. I cannot begin to tell you how much I appreciate all that you have done for the staff this year. The way he would enter the staff room and ask if we needed anything really meant a lot.

There are many people I would like to mention and extend my gratitude toward . . .

The everfaithful Dustin Thompson who gave me layout inspiration and then drew them. Among the endless list of qualities Dusty has, I feel his wonderful personality is at the top. It is exceptional to work with him.

Garland Tullos, who is probably ready to dismember each of my fingers for all the copy I asked him to come up with, knows what a difficult time one has trying to organize information into an interesting article for the yearbook. I'm sure, however, that whatever he attempts to do, will fall into place for him because he has the dedication and determination to make things happen.

Janene Turnage. I know I have probably driven her crazy over the past months! If I haven't, I know for certain the typing has! She has helped with many things including keeping MY sanity. When I think back and remember the crazy things we have done, true friendship is the only word I can use.

My family has been extremely supportive, even when they thought I had taken on more than I could handle.

My candle burns at both ends;

It will not last the night.

But ah, my foes and oh, my friends —

It gives a lovely light!

Edna St. Vincent Millay

Many thanks to the annual staff and everyone who made this edition of the WHISPERING PINES possible.

LOVE,
Judie

P.S. We shall be looking at this with a sigh somewhere ages and ages hence.
